Magi Followed Star To Find Son of Mary

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The mysticism and beauty of the Orient has mingled with the simplicity and reverence of a little town made holy by a divine occurrence.

Three sages from the East, impressive in the richness of their many colored silks and gold insignia, walked the dusty streets of Bethlehem today and told of their journeys across desert and plain to lay rare gifts at the feet of the tiny babe.

They spoke briefly and eloquently of the prophecy: "There shall come a star out of Jacob and a scepter shall rise out of Israel," and they described the brilliance and comet-like action of this star which had arisen in the east, and which they had followed until it halted over the Judean city.

These three Magi who bear the names of Casper, Melchior and Balthazar, were familiar with the Hebrew prophecies which foretold the advent of the Messiah, and had long waited for the star, they said. To prepare for the promised King of Israel, they sold their possessions and equipped a caravan.

Last night, surrounded by humble shepherds and barnyard animals, they fell to their knees and worshipped the young child with great joy, and presented him with frankincense, myrrh and gold.

When they were asked if the commonplace surrounding seemed out of keeping with Christ's significance, Melchior, the wise man, answered:

Herod in Dread, Seeks to Delude Sages from East

Manger Miracle Told Over and Over As Groups Collect

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — An apprehensive Herod sits on the throne of Judah, and is much disturbed at the significance of the Messiah in Bethlehem.

This was brought to light with the recent visit here of sages from the East who were seeking the newborn King of the Jews. Having heard of their inquiries, Herod hastily called together his chief priests and scribes who write the laws, and demanded them to tell him more of the prophecies of Christ's coming.

Then he summoned the wise men for questioning, and led them to believe that, if they would go to Bethlehem, discover the Child, and return and tell him about it, he would journey there himself to pay homage.

Those who heard Herod's interview with these Eastern wise men say he was given only evasive answers.

Political commentators say it is understandable that Herod should feel uneasy at the rise of a leader who will capture the imagination of a discouraged people. His reign has been a singularly unhappy one due to the pressure from Rome.

The Emperor Augustus has lately accumulated foreign property and subjects through a campaign of military invasions and controls about all in this part of the world that is worth taking. This has occupied the minds of the people, but has increased Roman extravagance. Palestine is one of these conquered countries and Herod is the King of Augustus's own choosing.

Some regard Herod's fear of a ruler who will overthrow him in a material sense as being unfounded.

They maintain that the significance of the Messiah is spiritual rather than political, and point out that he has always been prophesied as a Shepherd of Souls rather than a military deliverer.

Herod's nature, these commentators say, makes it impossible for him to understand a Prince of Peace.

ly splendor, it must have happened long ago. For no son of Abraham will ever again rival the power which Joseph had in the palaces of Egypt or the magnificence of Solomon throned between the lions of Jerusalem. But the light for which the world is waiting is a new light, the glory that shall rise out of patient and triumphant suffering. And the kingdom which is to be established forever in a new kingdom, the royalty of unconquerable love."

An intimation of the uncertain future was voiced when he added: "I do not know how the turbulent kings and people of the earth shall be brought to acknowledge the Messiah and pay homage to Him. But this I know. Those who seek Him will do well to look among the poor and lowly, the sorrowful and the oppressed."

Great Joy Pervades City of Bethlehem

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — It is impossible to describe the feeling of great joy that pervades Bethlehem today as the coming of the long-heralded Messiah is realized by the majority of its inhabitants.

The shepherds probably experienced the most poignant sensation for it was to them that the news was first given. The little group who were guarding their flocks from foxes and wolves that still roam the hills of Palestine, speak with great wonder of last night's message from the sky.

The amazing light together with the chanting of a heavenly host has brought an incoherence to their speech; but the radiance of their face is more impressive than any words could be.

"An angel of the Lord suddenly flashed before us and the glory of the Lord shone all around us," one of them said.

'Mary Smiled at Me!' Simply Clad Boy Says

NAZARETH, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — A young boy — one of the band of shepherds which was visited on the hill near here last night by a heavenly host of angels who told them of the birth of the baby prophet, was a shy narrator of events transpiring at the stables when the presence of the child became known.

Rough clad, and plainly awed by his part in the divine drama, he gave the only clear impression gained of Mary, the mother of the Holy Child.

Herod's Spies Said Departing Hurriedly For Jerusalem

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Several known spies and two sycophants of the court of King Herod, who for the greater part of the morning have been furtively watching the stable wherein the King of Glory rests in his swaddling clothes, left and came bound presumably for Jerusalem.

Herod is known to be extremely interested in the journeys of the Magi to Bethlehem.

Astrologers See Tragedy, Sorrow For Holy Babe

JERUSALEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Great tragedy will mark the future of the child born in Bethlehem, say the country's foremost astrologers. The stars, they say, reveal:

He will be in great danger while he is still an infant, and because of an attempt upon His life, many children will be killed.

He will live to be hailed in Jerusalem, but will later be rejected and betrayed by one close to Him.

Crucifixion will be the manner of His death, and He will undergo unspeakable suffering.

There are other venerable pathetic words which foretell the sufferings of the promised Messiah.

These reveal that He will be "despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief."

Their search of the records it is believed, will continue for many weeks and will entail many secret conferences with not only members of their craft, but with the priesthood in the temple itself. Whether their finds will be made public in detail is not known.

The astrologers added that this preliminary report of their findings as revealed by their efforts probably would be considered altered by further study and indeed, might be radically altered by results of research and study.

"We were frightened but the angel said, 'Have no fear, this is good news. I am bringing to you news of great joy that is meant for all the people. Today you have a savior born in the town of David, the Lord, Messiah. And here is a proof to you: you will find a baby wrapped up and lying in a stall for cattle.'"

Then a host of heaven's army suddenly appeared beside the angel, extolling God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." "Having sung this song, the angel went back to heaven, the light faded away, and all was dark as before."

"We began talking together about these strange sights and sounds," the shepherd related. "We didn't stop to think what would happen to our flocks, or wait until morning, we went at once. When we saw all was as the angel had said, we told everyone about it."

The other shepherds were too inspired, and the wise men from the east too preoccupied with the identity of the infant to notice details which the eye of a child seized upon.

"Everything seems so quiet in the stable," he replied to questions. "I noticed that even the pigeons didn't coo like they usually do."

"Did Mary or Joseph say anything to anyone?" he was asked.

The lad flushed then confessed: "Joseph asked to me help him fix the hay so it would be more comfortable, and then Mary smiled at me after she had been looking at the baby, and so I asked her if they didn't have better places in the inn. She answered low-like: 'There wasn't any room for us.'"

"I felt sorry for her; and then she smiled again and just whispered: 'But I like it here. The inn was so noisy, and the streets are full of loud people. The animals are peaceful. You mustn't feel sorry for us.'"

"I still felt strange. It is as though something too wonderful to talk about has happened to me. I can't explain it. But I feel so peaceful inside."

Long-Awaited Messiah Born In Lowly Manger

The Christmas issue today tells the story of Christ's birth as it might have been told if modern newspapers had been printed at that time. Today's current news appears on inside pages. The Bethlehem story was mainly written several years ago by a newsman and its use has become tradition with us. The dispatches are based on the story of the Christ child as it was originally written.

PROPHETS OF OLD

First to See Coming Of Prince of Peace

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — For centuries prophets have forecast the birth of a Christ Child and historians have made many references to the coming of a Messiah.

These are some of the names which have been applied to Him. Immanuel, Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace, The Lord of the Highest and Jesus.

Since the birth here today of the Wonderful child and the excitement and rejoicing that have followed local scribes have been searching history and the Bible and point to the predictions of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Micah and others.

The following quotations are given as vital to the Messiah's coming:

The Lord spoke again to Ahaz saying, Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God. . . . But Ahaz said I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. And he said, Hear ye now, O House of David. . . . Behold a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. — Isaiah 7:14.

The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. . . . For unto us a child is born, and the government shall be upon his shoulders, and his name shall be called WONDERFUL COUNSELOR THE MIGHTY GOD, THE EVERLASTING FATHER, THE PRINCE OF PEACE, of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgement and justice henceforth even forever.

In the sixth month the Angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin spoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David and the virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came up on her, and said, Hail thou art highly favored, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be, and the Angel said unto her: Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favor with God.

The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. — Isaiah 9:2-7.

I will gather the remnants of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven

Messiah Comes Into World Torn By Internal Strife

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — Christ was born last night. They say he is a King. Into a world torn with strife, into a dictator-ridden country that trembles at the clashing swords of Rome, has come the ray of light so long awaited by the troubled people.

It is a far cry from the golden pillars of Solomon's temple to the crude stalls of a cattle barn.

For hundreds of years the memories and tales of the glories of ancient Jerusalem have been treasured in the hearts of scattered race. For generations they have unrolled their papyrus scripts and reassured themselves that one day a Redeemer of Mankind would restore their kingdoms. With mighty armies He would vanquish a tyrant Caesar, and rebuild their shining city.

They thought of him in terms of shining raiment and a golden throne; they didn't expect swaddling clothes and manger hay.

They could see him proclaimed by heralds with silver trumpets; they didn't think his companions could be rough-haired oxen and sleepy-eyed goats.

They expected urns of smoldering incense, but not the aroma of a stable.

Multitudes would prostrate themselves on the ground in His presence, they believed; they didn't suppose that a hard-ripped innkeeper would suggest that the royal family sleep in the barn because all of his rooms were full of taxpayers.

Some say that this baby born last night to Mary and Joseph of Nazareth couldn't possibly be the Messiah foretold in Scriptures. But there are others who remember the words of the prophet Isaiah, of Jeremiah and of Micah and as the Saviour of Israel.

Eyes of All Judea Turn to Bethlehem

Appearance of Star Convinces Inhabitants New Baby is Prince

BETHLEHEM, Dec. 25—Beginning the Year of Our Lord 1. — The eyes of all Judea are turned with awe today upon this little town as the word emanates from it that the long prophesied Messiah was born here last night.

Miraculous happenings and visitations of heavenly hosts which confronted them with radiance and divine song, lead inhabitants to believe that this is the prince of the throne of David, who Scriptures have said will reunite the scattered tribes of Israel and reign over them as the Son of God.

The appearance of a new star of Great Magnitude and luminescence, convinced them that it portends to the ancient prophecy.

The infant, born to Mary, a Jewish girl from Nazareth, who is the wife of Joseph, a carpenter, was first discovered by a group of shepherds who received the news of His birth from a band of angels while they were tending their flocks in the low lying hills outside the city.

Descending in a blaze of heavenly glory that prostrated the little group of men and boys with amazement, the divine visitors told them not to be afraid but to go to the stable in Bethlehem, where they would find the Christ in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.

This the shepherds did, being guided all the way by an angel. There they found the child, but recently born, with his parents and stable animals. So deep was the conviction of the angel's message upon them, that they immediately accepted Him as the promised Saviour, and fell upon their knees and worshipped him.

Following in quick succession the visit of the shepherds was a caravan of wise men, or Magi, from humble birthplaces bearing jewels and precious gifts. To them too, this was a long-awaited event, since they are close students of astronomy, and were watching for the star. When it appeared they regarded it as the sign that the child had been born which the prophet had foretold.

While the largest part of the population here is talking of the event in tones of unsurpassed awe, and plainly regard it as a means by which they will be delivered from their Roman oppressor, there are many who are frankly skeptical. They feel that the future Christ will come from a more significant source.

The whole atmosphere here has been one of unusual excitement for the past few days since that was the time decreed by Augustus Caesar for all tax payers in Judea to be registered. Mary and Joseph being of the house of David, were required to come to Bethlehem, and although Mary was an expectant mother, and the 50-mile journey from Nazareth in Galilee was extremely arduous for her, the urgency of the order was such that they dare not say no.

From the meager details gained from keepers of public places, it appears that Joseph had failed to make any reservation for lodging. The low temperature of the winter night forced them to the stable where they made themselves as comfortable as they could in the straw. They suffered no ill effects from the experience, however, and those who visited the little family after the birth became known, report that an aura of light transformed the dingy surroundings into a place of beauty.

Mary indicated that she would call the child Jesus.

Church to Put Sights, Sounds, Smell Back Into Christmas

In the 13th century, St. Francis of Assisi wanted the people to have a realistic picture of the birth of Christ. So he built a manger scene that contained live animals and a crib. The response was so great that he stood by singing joyfully as many people came to the manger.

Hope plans to re-enact this event in a Christmas Pageant which promises to put the sights, sounds, and smell back in Christmas which have been taken out, according to Pastor Cliff Listug.

Pageant begins at 10:30 a.m. in the church Sanctuary, 737 Brookhaven rd., San Diego.

Christmas Pets Need Good Homes

Perhaps at no time of the year does a warm cuddly puppy or kitten seem more appealing than during the Christmas holidays.

The idea is great, but the County Humane Society advises that there is an important catch in considering a Christmas pet — be sure the recipient, be it adult or child, is ready to take on the responsibility of a new member of the family.

The Society urges prospective pet owners to take the following points into consideration before a decision is made to pick up a Christmas pet:

—Will the new owner have a proper place to keep the animal?

—Does the new owner have the right equipment to care for a puppy or kitten from the beginning?

—Will the pet be a novelty and soon forgotten or will it be accepted into the family? The San Diego County Humane Society has plenty of animals and a strong desire to place every one of them, but only to the right homes.

The Humane Society is open Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. As a special service, the Society will hold any selected puppy for pickup on Christmas Eve.

No Tax Election For SV Schools, Board Decides

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education, at its special meeting on Tuesday, December 10, determined not to place a revenue base increase question on the March 4, 1975 election ballot. The decision came after weeks of study by the Board and administration, culminating in last week's action.

In summarizing the district's present dilemma, Superintendent Jim Runge stated: "It is evident that present and future school finance laws of California are and will be affected by the Serrano-Priest decision's placing revenue limits on school districts. These revenue limits become expenditure limits, and knowing that 85% of a district's expenditures is for salaries, it forces districts to spend comparably for staff."

A key element in the board's tax election decision is the expectation of temporary money relief from three sources. The first comes as a result of a court class-action suit which has recently brought approximately $450,000 of "old" federal P.L. 874 money to this district. The second is anticipated income from current P.L. 874 monies, and the third is the expected temporary help from the state Legislature. So far, however, only the "old" 874 funds have been received by the school district.

Strong Arm Attempt Foiled by Autoists

There was bad news and the good news for Maria Cristina Benavides on Friday.

The bad news was the strong arm robbery at the hands of a 21-year old male Negro who struck her to the ground and grabbed her purse which contained $800 that had moments before been withdrawn from a bank in the 500 block of Sweetwater rd.

Three men who saw the robbery, jumped from their cars and caught a man later listed as Joseph Lawrence Sasser of a "C" st. address in San Diego. Mrs. Benavides, a housewife of 462 Alene st. in Spring Valley, was struck about the face by the assailant.

The autoists chased Sasser over fences and through yards near St. George st., a street south of the incident.

The good news.

The money was returned to Mrs. Benavides with the sheriff's department admonition not to carry so much money on her person.

The next day came another report. It was discovered that someone had made off with some elevator brake coils valued at $5,000. The latter was said to have been taken over a period of time.

Stereos 'Hot' With Burglars

Stereos are hot Christmas items this year among the burglar element.

Stereo equipment and tape decks valued at $448 were stolen from Builders Emporium, 543 Sweetwater rd., in Spring Valley Saturday after the store closed for the night, according to Thomas H. Foster, assistant manager. Entry was made into the store through a roll door which was left partly open by the intruder.

Meanwhile, Richard Eugene Corbin, of 2660 Buena Vista st., Lemon Grove, suffered a loss almost as great as the Emporium's when burglars, on Friday, took his stereo equipment which he valued at $430.

Man Dies in S.V. Accident

A 22-year old San Diego man was killed Friday night when his car went out of control in Spring Valley.

Dead at the scene was Todd W. Jones, Larri Watson, 33, of Ingewood, a passenger in the car suffered minor injuries, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Land Use Is Central To IPO Operation

Part 4

Land use is the major ingredient in Supervisor Dick Brown's Integrated Planning Office (IPO) proposal that is due for study by the supervisors January 21.

The entire proposal, just as the staff and the supervisors will see it, is being reproduced in these columns.

Previous columns have dealt with the philosophy and the need for an integrated planning office. With this column starts the land use aspect. That will be followed by environmental management; transportation; sanitation and flood control, and public facility and budgeting.

This section is on land use.

Land Use

The county currently has a branch within the planning department devoted to long-range land use planning. This division should be relocated to form the nucleus of the IPO land planning section.

Under the existing county structure, the designation of the Planning Department is a misnomer. It would become more so with the severance of its only true planning division in establishing that division as a section of IPO. Thus, in transferring the long-range division out, the Planning Department should correctly be renamed the Department of Land Utilization. The two remaining branches in the present planning department function primarily in administrative and daily operational roles involving little, if any, long-range planning. Code interpretation, subdivision mapping and review, lot splits, project and special use permit review, and rezonings are technical responsibilities.

A majority of the more than 60 professional planners within that department are assigned to these kinds of tasks, and thus rarely have time to devote to planning. Only 17 of those professional planners are assigned to the long-range planning branch.

Ongoing Process

Transferring the long-range planning function into the Integrated Planning Office would bring with it the ongoing Community Planning process and County General Plan program. Problems within that division of the Planning Department now, as described by planners and administrators, include:

—A lack of formal working relationships between the Community Planning section and the General Plan section, despite the fact that both operate within the same division.

—A lack of direct communication with other regional, state and federal agencies relating to land planning, such as the San Diego Regional Coastal Commission, Water Quality Control Board and the Comprehensive Planning Organization (although some informal staff cooperation exists in scattered instances).

Bus Fare To Go Up 10¢ Jan. 15

Bus fare will increase to 35 cents effective January 15, San Diego Transit Corp. Board decided last Thursday. Inflation is the cause of the dime raise. Exempt from the price hike are senior citizens and students of high school age or younger.

The same day, county Board of Supervisors rejected a proposal to take over the transit system. Proposal was scrapped by a 4-1 vote because the board felt that county residents would not be better served by county ownership and because the county might not have as much funding available for maintaining the system as does the city.

Mother Seeks $300,000 for Injured Son

A Brookside mother seeks $300,000 plus medical expenses from the county in compensation for injuries suffered by her son in a September accident involving a drainage ditch in Spring Valley.

John James Di Giacomo, 5, son of Mary Di Giacomo, received cuts on his head and hands when he fell into the ditch known as both "Fairway Ditch" and "Brookside Brook." Mrs. Di Giacomo claims that the head wounds, which required several stitches, abscessed and that her son's behavior patterns had changed since the accident.

The suit blames the county for negligence in the maintenance of the ditch.

Auto Registration Not Offered at Banks

Motor vehicle registration renewal service will not be offered in banks this year, Department of Motor Vehicles' Director Robert Cozens announced.

Cozens said that the bank service has been discontinued because of the increasing popularity of mail registration. Last year, only one bank in Northern California provided the service and less than 30 in the Southern California area.

He explained that it is not economically feasible to provide registration renewal service in banks.

Cozens stated that "Current trends indicate more and more motorists are mailing their registration forms and checks to the nearest DMV office."

Deadline for registration is Friday, February 7, 1975. After that date, penalties will be added to all fees.

Grove Woman Jailed On Prescription Charge

Co-operation between a local druggist and Sheriff's Fraud Division officers resulted in the arrest of a young woman who reportedly was attempting to obtain restricted drugs on a forged prescription.

Arrested on a felony charge of possessing and attempting to pass a fraudulent prescription form for dangerous or restricted drugs was Anne Marie Taylor, 22, of 8275 Golden ave., Lemon Grove.

Sheriff's fraud detail detectives were brought into the case after she is reported to attempt to get a prescription filled at the Lemon Grove Rexall Drug store, 7789 Broadway last week on Monday.

Pharmacist Mike Carlen, who is also proprietor of the store, noted a discrepancy in the prescription and called the doctor whose name was signed to it. Told that it was fraudulent, Carlen contacted the fraud detail. He then told the customer that the prescription would be ready early the next day. She didn't show up until 8 p.m. Tuesday, after Carlen had gone home.

S.V. Couple Sues Firm for $5 Million

Susan and Richard Bettell of Spring Valley filed a $5 million suit against Grant Division-Royal Industries for alleged negligence in the manufacture of a motorcycle helmet.

The helmet, worn by Bettell, reportedly shattered in a motorcycle accident in January, resulting in injuries that totally disabled him and confined him to a wheelchair.

The suit seeks $4 million for Bettell and $1 million for his wife.

Local Nutrition Center Funded For 9 Months

The Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Nutrition Center in the Youth Center, School lane, Lemon Grove, will operate in 1975—at least through September, Linda Pflueger, site manager, said this week.

The County Board of Supervisors approved the funding following the receipt of $396,000.00 in state funds for the project. The County adds approximately $150,000.00 to the state money.

The Center in Lemon Grove is one of 9 in the county. It serves 112 meals a day. 25 per cent of the total daily patrons are transported to and from the Center by bus.

Pflueger said she foresees the service being reduced to 100 a day during the coming quarter unless supplemental funds can be found.

"There just isn't enough money to take care of everyone now on the list," she said. The Lemon Grove Center serves residents of both Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. Not all senior citizens who want to participate in the program are being accommodated.

We really need to expand the program rather than reduce it," Pflueger said.

Dr. V. L. Van Zele Dies at Home

Dr. V. L. Van Zele died Sunday at his home at 8302 Golden ave., Lemon Grove, as he watched television. He had been in good health.

He was 80 and had lived locally 44 years.

He was a member of the first bomber squadron the world had ever known.

He flew clumsy old biplanes off a field in Foggia, Italy to targets in Germany during World War One.

He was decorated several times for valor for his part in untried air bombing.

He was a member of World War One Overseas Fliers and attended numerous reunions of the group — a group that had become extremely small.

Four years ago he was invited by the Italian Government to attend ceremonies in Foggia at which he was again presented with a medal for valor.

Corporation Tax Installment Due

Many Southern California corporations must make their fourth quarterly installment payment of their 1974 estimated income tax no later than Monday. Corporations operating on a calendar year basis for tax purposes are those which are affected.

"These payments, accompanied by Form 503, 'Federal Tax Deposit, Corporation Income Taxes,' are deposited in authorized commercial banks or Federal Reserve Banks," IRS said.

The estimated tax and the amount of each installment can be computed on a Form 1120-W, which is a worksheet for computing corporation estimated income tax. This form is not filed with the IRS, but retained in the corporation's records.

Illegal Skins Arrest Leads to $75,000 Suit

SAN DIEGO (SPCL) — A civil suit seeking $75,000 in punitive damages from a local clothing distributor who marketed boots made from skins of endangered animals was filed by District Attorney Ed Miller Monday (12/16).

Named in the complaint were corporate officers of Harrison-Reidy Grain Co., Inc., operating as H-Bar-R Western Wear, the parent San Diego company for outlets in Lemon Grove, Chula Vista, El Cajon and National City.

The civil action grew out of the arrest in November of Fred Nobbs, manager of H-Bar-R Western Outfitters, 7473 Broadway, Lemon Grove. Nobbs was charged with selling footwear made of alligator and kangaroo skin and 30 pairs of boots were confiscated.

Both animals are listed by the state legislature as "endangered species."

Logan McKechnie, confidential assistant to Miller, said the civil action for unfair business practices carried a potential penalty of $2,500 for each pair of boots.

In addition, since Nobbs was also named in the civil matter, this marked the first time in anyone's memory that both criminal and civil charges had been filed against the same person for the same act, McKechnie said.

Nobbs had been charged with a misdemeanor when arrested for selling the footwear. He faces fines of up to $5,000 on that count if found guilty.

The other stores were also listed in the complaint.

Fraud investigators from Miller's office followed up on a tip from the Sierra Club on the original Lemon Grove arrest.

Sups Delay Hearing On Flood Law

A public hearing to consider application of the Flood Plain Overlay Zone to six major flood plains in San Diego County has been rescheduled by the County Board of Supervisors from December 23, to January 22.

The January hearing will be held at 9:30 a.m. in Room 358 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego.

The six major flood plains involved are: Otay River, San Luis Rey River, Spring Valley Creek, Escondido Creek, Poway Creeks Complex, and Upper San Diego River Flood Plains. Locally, the Spring Valley Overlay has created considerable reaction. An organization, with a membership of more than 100 has been formed to change the Overlay Ordinance which members claim, would cause property owners a considerable loss.

Maps and information are available for inspection in Room 306 of the County Administration Center. For information call 236-2175.

Glaeser to Try For College Post

Harold R. Glaeser, an insurance man and a 16-year resident of San Diego County, has declared his candidacy for election to Grossmont Community College Board of Trustees on March 4.

Glaeser is a 12-year member of the Board of Directors of San Diego County's Goodwill Industries, and received a citation this year for making 300 speeches on behalf of Goodwill activities.

A member of the Council At Large of Boy Scouts of America, he also serves on the Economic Development Committee of the El Cajon Chamber of Commerce.

He and his family live in Blossom Valley.

Glaeser is a graduate of the U. of Buffalo and is a Navy veteran.

Valley Tops UW-CHAD Goal; Grove is $300 Over 1973

Spring Valley has far exceeded its goal figure and Lemon Grove has surpassed its 1973 final total in this year's United Way/CHAD First Combined Campaign as reported at the final campaign meeting Tuesday, December 17.

Spring Valley co-chairmen Glenn Boelter and Naomi Marshall have announced a victory total of $8,202, which is $2,802 over the $5,400 community goal for 1974.

"This is the largest amount ever raised in Spring Valley for the annual United Way campaign," Mrs. Marshall said. "It is a tremendous victory for this community and I want to thank the many dedicated volunteers who made it possible."

Lemon Grove campaign chairman James V. Dorman announced that his community has raised $8,513 in contributions to date which is $328 more than was recorded in 1973.

According to Dorman, "I am very pleased with the gain we have made for United Way/CHAD in Lemon Grove this year, but I am also aware of the current fiscal year and that we have achieved only 73.3 percent of the $11,600 goal. I would hope that we could come closer to our goal weeks, with the additional gifts that are still being encouraged.

Students Get County Jobs

The Board of Supervisors okayed the hiring of 22 students from area junior and four-year colleges for a training program to encourage minorities and women to work for the county.

The students will be placed in various county departments and agencies where they will work at jobs suited to their career goals.

The cost of the program is $45,000 for the remainder of this year, but I am also aware of the current fiscal year and that we have achieved only 73.3 percent of the $11,600 goal. I would hope that we could come closer to our goal weeks,

Dressing Recipe Feeds a Large Crowd

Your holiday dressing is a complement to a perfectly baked turkey or chicken. Most homemakers have their own secret addition to make their dressing a little different. However, this is a good basic recipe for a large crowd. It can be divided very easily — 1/3 or 1/2 will probably be enough for the average family.

DRESSING

2 cups flour
2 cups corn meal
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt (if none in broth)
6 large onions, chopped
1 large stalk celery, chopped

1/2 lb. oleo or butter

9 eggs
Pepper and poultry seasoning to taste
Buttermilk

Combine all ingredients in a large mixing bowl. Make soft batter by adding buttermilk (amount can vary). Pour into a well greased baking pan. Bake at 400 degrees until well done. Remove from oven and stir to crumble. Pour the broth or giblet gravy over the dry dressing until moist. Return to oven and brown. Keep hot until served with turkey.

New Sport Introduced Saturday at Copley Y

Two players will demonstrate Jokari, a new game that is a cross between paddle ball and Jai Alai at the Copley YMCA Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The game uses a ball on the end of a rubber cord 10 to 12 feet long which expands to 50 or 60 feet and is anchored by a wooden block.

Copley's Physical Director, Bill Friend, says that the game can be played anywhere and is helpful for eye-hand coordination.

Crocker Collection To Open at Gallery

Master Drawings from Sacramento, a major exhibition comprised of works from the collection of the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery, will be on view at the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, Balboa Park, December 21 through February 2.

The 98 works in the exhibition represent a small selection from the 1300 European drawings in the Crocker Art Gallery. The collection was assembled by Edwin Bryant Crocker in a short period of time probably between 1869-1870. They were given to the City of Sacramento with the Gallery by Mrs. E. B. Crocker in 1885.

The exhibition is the first major exposure of this important collection. It has previously been seen in Georgia and Hawaii.

Monte Vista Students Play Santa to Needy El. Ed. Children

Underprivileged children from Crockett and Logan Elementary Schools in San Diego will be treated to a Christmas Party complete with candy, toys and Santa, thanks to students at Monte Vista High School.

Students have donated over 2,500 toys and 850 pounds of Candy to the annual Christmas project to give needy children a Christmas to remember.

Mrs. Nadia Davies, director of the project, feels that the spirit of giving shown by these students is highly commendable.

"Most of the students who brought gifts will not see the children at the party. They gave knowing they would get nothing in return," she said.

Gas Use Declines, 11th Straight Month

The 11th straight month of decline in taxable gasoline consumption compared with the monthly total of the previous year was reported last week by Board of Equalization Member John W. Lynch.

Figures show that November, 1973 was the last month to show an increase in taxable gas consumption. Figures had been consistently topping the previous year's totals until that month when the gasoline shortage became critical.

The steady decline since then may indicate a conscious attempt to conserve fuel on the part of California drivers.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Let the name trip lightly over your tongue. Tito Fuentes. It's got a soft rhythm that make you think of ballet movements. Light and smooth flowing. Quickness with grace.

He's the Padres great prize in the winter trading derby and he plays second base much to the image one dreams up in matching the lifting rhythm of his name to movements of the dance.

Tito is quick, adept, smart and wide of range. He is a natural spark plug leader and carries an infectious grin at the constant ready.

He plays second base from short center field to the right field foul line in such a manner that he holds the major league record for fielding. Tito went through the entire '73 season with only six miscues logged against his name, breaking Jackie Robinson's 23 year old record.

And that came on a full campaign, complete with another record. Tito took 870 chances to post a .993 fielding average, topping Bill Mazeroski's old mark of .991 set in 1966.

But the thing that brings large smiles to Padre manager John McNamara's face goes beyond Tito's range. As sure as his hands are and as much ground as he covers, Fuentes major attraction to McNamara is the way he makes the pivot. Tito is a master at the double play.

He twirls and leaps in such force that one is reminded of Rudolf Nureyev or Valery Panov. No where this side of the Kirov Ballet in Leningrad is there such a sight to behold.

Fuentes movements are a graceful blur, almost as if the feed from the shortstop were simply curved around second on the way to first.

It is a living tribute to Tito's courage that such is the case.

You see, Tito's career was almost over before it got started. He all but shattered his right ankle, and tore up the ligaments so badly that his future was in doubt. It happened back in 1968. His spikes got jammed on a slide and Tito was out for the year.

Or was he? His foot went into a cast in May, and came out in late June. He worked out with the Phoenix Giants in the Pacific Coast League trying to regain his mobility.

It hurt to walk, but Tito insisted on running. He gritted his teeth, ignored the tears that sprang unwillingly to his eyes and ran through pain and torment. He made no road trips that summer, but he worked out at the Phoenix ball yard every day.

His dedicated effort turned anguish into accomplishment, making the medico who told him he would probably never walk again look like a first aid course drop out. Tito returned to the lineup in September.

Tito went on to stardom with the Giants. He hits well, especially with men in scoring position. He owns a .262 lifetime major league batting mark batting from both sides. He has great bat control and figures to hit second behind Bobby Tolan.

Make no mistake, a quality guy has come to San Diego to join a team that begins more and more to look as if it's ready to make a move in the National League West.

And for a baseball fan, what more could you want for Christmas?

DA's Gift to Businessmen

SAN DIEGO — District Attorney Ed Miller has suggested an unusual gift for the businessman on the Christmas shopping list.

Miller's office in conjunction with the United States Chamber of Commerce has produced a handbook on White Collar Crime. The one hundred page booklet alerts the businessman to the numerous deceptive practices now in vogue in the business community.

Miller's office provides the booklet free to those who request a copy by writing to: White Collar Crime, c/o District Attorney's Office, 220 West Broadway, San Diego, California 92101.

Miller said the handbook was published "because of our conviction the vast majority of men and women in business and the professions are ethical, well-intentioned, and desirous of doing business through conduct that is beyond reproach."

The handbook presents a positive, self-help approach that seeks to mobilize the business and professional community against the white collar criminal, Miller said.

Chargers President Pushes Christmas Seal Campaign

Gene Klein, President of the San Diego Chargers and Chairman of the 1974 Christmas Seal Campaign in San Diego County, has been stressing the "breath of life" theme of this year's campaign.

"Without healthy lungs," Klein said, "athletes can't perform the strenuous activities required of them and the average citizen can't live life to the fullest either."

"Diminished lung capacity means that those who could normally work and enjoy recreation are confined to limited lives," he said.

In appealing for Christmas Seal contributions, Klein recalled that Lung Association programs funded by Christmas Seal contributions go on all year long and serve members of our community, from very young asthmatics to elderly patients with emphysema and chronic bronchitis.

Health Director Is Encouraged by Sugar Prices

Soaring sugar prices, while painful to the pocketbook, may be a blessing in disguise, California's health director or a candy bar, he said.

Dr. William E. Mayer said to normal, "the average American mouth can save money and teeth by finding other ways to satisfy our sweet tooth."

"One way to reduce the number of rotting teeth and diseased gums is to cut down on sugar or foods that contain sugar," he said.

"Check food beverages for the list of ingredients, and remember they are listed by volume. When sugar is first, it means the food contains more of the sweet stuff than any other substance."

Mayer said volume is important in another way. A teaspoonful of sugar in tea or coffee is not as harmful as the tablespoonful in a soft drink or a candy bar, he said.

"Even if sugar prices return to normal," Mayer said, "we should give them a try."

"Fresh fruit and vegetables, nuts and other low-sugar foods may never replace soda pop and ice cream, but we should give them a try."

Limiting sugar intake is only one part of a good dental program, according to the health official. Proper daily use of a toothbrush and dental floss, and regular visits to a dentist, are important too, Mayer said.

Asks School Fee Freeze

Harry Riley director of Grossmont Adult School asked the school board Monday not to raise registration fee by $1.

The present fee of $1 a semester provides $48,000 a year from the district's 541 adult classes. He said it would work a hardship on many of the 16,500 students.

Christmas is the busiest time of year for elves, mothers, reindeer... and SDGE. Since home Christmas lighting is such a big energy user, we'd like to suggest some ways to keep your holidays bright, without the use of additional electricity.

There are many non-electric ways to say "welcome" or "happy holidays." A wreath on the door, a red bow on a lamp post, children's drawings or snowflakes in a window and poinsettias on the front steps.

If you want something more dramatic, create a cardboard or plywood Santa. A snowman. Or a manger scene to display in your yard. You'll have fun and an original work of art without the use of electricity.

Inside, make this year's tree an old-fashioned family project. String popcorn and cranberries. Hang candy canes, homemade cookies or bright red apples. Tie on colorful bows. Then add reflecting tinsel and ornaments to pick up existing light from your lamps or fireplace. You'll be surprised how bright your tree can be!

The use of Christmas lights has not been officially prohibited this year. However, energy conservation is more important than ever. So, if you do decide to use lights, please use miniature lights which use half as much electricity as regular indoor lights. And please limit the length of time you leave them on.

Finally, we wish you and your family a very merry Christmas, and the greatest gift: a Christmas spirit of hope and sharing to brighten your whole year.

Dear Editor:

December and January are months for celebrating. For the individual who has a drinking problem, however, the traditional abundance of alcohol during the holiday season may represent temptation and potential crisis. As a clearinghouse for information and education in the San Diego area, we are available during the holidays for programs/interviews on drinking and driving, the moderate use of alcohol, and San Diego's facilities for alcohol treatment.

We've prepared a special pamphlet, "The Non-Drinker's Drink Book". The booklet lists recipes for non-alcoholic beverages as well as tips for the

1,860 Toys to Go to Tots

1,860 new, quality toys were turned over to the Toys for Tots campaign Monday by Frank Parks, vice-president and general manager of Rancho San Diego.

The toys were purchased from proceeds of the First Annual Rancho San Diego Tee Off for Tots Golf Tournament. Businessmen contributed $100 each to participate in the November 15th event.

Toys were purchased at wholesale from cooperating manufacturers and distributors. They range in price from $1 to $12 and are suitable for children from one to ten years old.

Five pickup trucks driven by Marine personnel deliver the toys to the Salvation Army distributing center, 830 8th ave., San Diego, on Monday.
